

W.P.A. Project Number 41

Canyon Lakes Golf Course

Kennewick

June 5, 6, 7, 2005

Jack and Joyce Green did a superb job on Project # 41. Joyce's worry beads fended off the rain at the last moment so we had two great days of golf. The choice of the golf course was excellent as was the hotel. Outstanding among all this good stuff was their daughter's great catering of our meals. Thanks to you for a great time, Joyce and Jack. Two down in our quest to break the string of 32 events without rain.

The golf left something to be desired, especially when not one man was able to hit the green on the KP hole. Shame. On the other hand, as a group we shot a 3 under for the men's round. It seems low gross became a family affair again with Mike and Colleen Carlson showing the way. Low net was also a couple, Mike and Colleen Carlson. Is there something wrong with this picture?

Now everyone seemed to have the same response. "What a course. I'd like to play it again. I know I could do better". Well your message was heard by the Melvilles and they have called your claim. You'll get a chance on the same course in September. Now prove your brag.. We have your score for this time, so look out. This is a good place to mention that Sue Smith is helping with the record keeping, typing, etc. If you think that offers any possible relief from the fines, just be assured she has been trained and knows the system.

Scramble at West Richland resulted in an apparent win by the Gil and Don Johnson group. They turned in a card just titled the Johnson Team. That was not acceptable without any names. Careful investigation disclosed several problems. This team added players to their group in clear violation of the rules. Members added were too lazy or too ignorant to know they did not start off the first tee. They claimed to have followed the rules and used each player's drive twice – six players in nine holes? That would take an ingenious effort. The Rules and Discipline Committee determined that there were multiple violations. Their win was revoked. However, for fining purposes, they were treated as if they won and quadruple fines were assessed..

Welcome to our new members, Steve and Lee Ward, Wes and Fran Nord, and Dick and Judy Bingay. They have been added to the membership list.
