

BELL'S PROJECT #52

September 12th brought the Bell's project # 52 to life in beautiful Sunnyside, WA. It looked like Cay Bell and the "Dirty Dozen" might just pull it off. The week prior was kind of a scare as several of our group fell to illness. We hope all are doing better and ready to return to action in Post Falls in June.

Sunday night brought us together at the Grapevine Inn for the kick-off meeting. The staff provided us with a great meeting room and pleasant accommodations for our project. The group included 3 members of the original WPA group – King Emeritus Jack Frisk and Bob and Bonnie Warnecke. The appetizers kicked off the evening soon to be followed by a wonderful BBQ provided by Guerras of Sunnyside. No one left for want of food.

The meeting was held with the usual complaints of excessive fines and iron handed control. We were able to have Paul and Joan tell us about next spring's project to Post Falls, ID. The group seemed to settle down when we talked about the next outing and they are looking forward to Idaho's relaxed rules on alcohol consumption. Sue and Gary will again host us for the Fall Classic in Seaside, OR. Gary said he will not be moving any furniture before our outing. Next spring's outing should provide a chance for some of our newest members to return and maybe a few new ones.

Monday brought a beautiful day for golf at Black Rock Creek. As greens were being punched and sanded, we played the back nine twice allowing each person a chance to really show their stuff. How hard could it be to play the same nine without slashing strokes? Well, the fact of the matter was, some adjusted and some maladjusted!

The women were led by some of the usual low shooters, Colleen and Sally. Ena Robins was the low gross shooter with a score of 105. However, the low net went to Nancy Krook, flashing a big new smile, with a score of 80. She promised the trophy would not be displayed under their bed this year.

The men's group was led off with more of the Krook family. Frank shot the low gross of 85. It appeared the Cougars were to take home the loot as Roger Ohlsen was the low net with a 70.

As records are made to be broken, Mike Carlson stepped up to take 6 shots out of the same sand trap on good old #17. No, this wasn't the total for playing it two times; this was in one visit to the desert.

After some confusion, we were informed that one of our newest members might be eligible for low gross. Dr. Richard Lowell, DDS, aka Dr. Dick, shot a 77. Great shooting Doc! As we had not been paid the $20 fee to join the WPA, the matter was referred to the committee for further review. It appears the Dr. had drilled many of his shots and filled the hole on several occasions. Do you think he was using "cavity back" irons?

Monday night brought us back to the Grapevine for a little Sunnyside Mexican cuisine. Again, the group was well fed.

Tuesday was again at Black Rock Creek with the groups tackling the sanded front 9. The teams took on the front 9 without hesitation. Birdies flew from the opening hole. However, several of the teams only saw the birdies that lived in the numerous bird houses around the course.

After the first five groups plowed through the sanded greens, the final two groups were able to sink the fewest putts to tie for the honors. The group of Richard Lowell, Colleen Carlson, Jack Frisk, and Bonnie Warnecke tied with the group of Bill Parker, Cay Bell, Paul Chaplik, and Sally West.

The whole group assembled around #9 green as the final group fired various tee shots. All the shots fell short of their mark, until the last man. Bill "Big Stick" Parker moved to the tee, carefully selecting the right club. He launched a beauty, landing 20'6" from the cup. Cay moved to the green to survey the putt. With a quick look to the sky and a twinkle in her eye, she stepped forward and drained the final putt of the day. What a perfect ending to the Bell's Project #52!

See you in June,
Jack
